Saluggia (Vercelli, Italy), June 1, 2010 – DiaSorin S.p.A., a global leader in the immunodiagnostics market, announced today the closing of the transaction to acquire the MUREX® product line from Abbott, initiated with a binding agreement signed on the 10th of March (as simultaneously announced).

As previously announced, the MUREX® product line consists of products for the diagnosis of HIV, HCV and HBV infections. Assets dedicated to the manufacture of these products, which are located in South Africa and the UK, are included in the transaction. MUREX® products generated approximately $66.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2009. The transaction does not include commercial payables and receivables that will remain with the seller.

The purchase price, as already stated, is $58 million cash and it will be funded entirely with internal Company resources.

This acquisition, consistent with DiaSorin’s strategy to continue to add new depth to its product portfolio, further strengthens its leadership position in infectious disease and open the door for attractive growth opportunities in the future.
